

June 20, 1402

Battle of Angora (ANKARA)

About 800,000 Tatars led by Mongol Conqueror Tamerlane (c1336-1405), defeated Turkish army
under ~~BAYAZET~~ I (Bayazid I) (Bayazid I) (1347-1403) at Angora in Central Asia Minor

1402

---

Bursa capital of Ottoman Empire was sacked by Mongols under Tamerlane

1402 1912 Dates J-BK
(1361-1419) WENCESLAUS

King of Bohemia
(1378-1419) Wenceslaus
1400 IV

Holy Roman emperor (1378 - ~~1419~~). Son & successor of Charles IV. In 1393 he caused John of NEPOMUK to be tortured to death for refusing to give up the secrets of the confessional.

In 1394 he was arrested and imprisoned by a conspiracy of the nobles, but the German princes secured his release. In 1395 he sold the title of Duke of Milan to VISCONTI for 100,000 florins. The powerful archbishops of Mainz secured his deposition from the throne in 1400. Rupert of the Palatinate being chosen to succeed him.

He still retained the throne of Bohemia.
In 1402, his brother, SIGISMUND, imprisoned Wenceslaus in Vienna for 15 mos. Wenceslaus resigned in favor of his brother Sigismund

1402

1912 Dates J-BK

(1348-1425) MANUEL II PALAEOLOGUS

Byzantine emperor (1391-1425). Son and successor of John V. with whom he had been associate ruler since 1373. He applied for aid from the Western princes against the Turks. The combined army was defeated by BAJAZET at NICOPOLIS in ~~1398~~ 1396. In 1398, his nephew assisted by the Turks, rebelled & Manuel was forced to make him emperor under the title of John VII. In 1402 BAJAZET was defeated & taken prisoner by TIMUR in Angora and died (1403). Manuel reigned in peace then for 18 yrs. In 1421 Mohammed I died and the war was renewed with his successor AMURATH II.

In 1422 Constantinople was besieged and was saved by a humiliating treaty.
Manuel retired in 1423 to a monastery
where he died in 1425.

1402

Isin Galazzo died. Isin
morid in Milan.

Tamerlane overthrew Bajazet
at Battt of Angora

1402

1912 Dates J-BK

(1336-1405) TAMERLANE (or TIMUR) (or
TIMUR-BEG) (or TIMUR-LENK) (or TIMUR the Lame)

A Mongol conqueror; born in Turkistan, of which he became the ruler in 1369, taking the title of EMIR. By 1387 he had conquered the whole country
east of the TIGRIS from TIFLIS to SHIRAZ.
In 1392 he crossed the Tigris and by 1395 had advanced as far as Moscow, leaving death & desolation in his train. In 1398 he entered India and was everywhere victorious, the number of captives so increased that when he captured DELHI he ordered the cold blooded massacre of 100,000 of the men. He then advanced into Asia Minor & in 1402 he met and defeated the TURKS under BAJAZET I at Angora, where Bajazet was captured. He conquered the whole of Asia Minor and the Byzantine emperor did homage to him. When in 1405, he was preparing for his long-cherished invasion of China, he was taken ill and died in the SIBIR in Asiatic Russia.

1402 AD

7 Wm de

Knights of St John destroyed the Mausoleum at Halicarnassus
so the marble could be used to build a Castle

1402

1336-1405

Tamerlane was mongol conqueror
He invaded ~~S~~ Persia, S. Russia, and India where he took Delhi
In Asia Minor, he defeated (1402) the Ottoman Turks
and captured their sultan BEYAZID I. He died (1405)
while planning an invasion of China

1402

(1347-1403) BAJAZET (or BAYAZID I)

Sultan of the Ottomans. Succeeded his father AMURATH I in 1389. His vast energy and the swiftness of his movements gained for him the surname "Ilderim" or "lightning". Conquered Asia Minor, considerable of Turkey and carried his campaign into Bulgaria, Hungary, Wallachia, and part of Greece. Was first in his family to assume the title of SULTAN. He was desirous of taking Constantinople and defeated a league of Christian powers commanded by Sigismund, King of Hungary, on the banks of the Danube at NICOPOLIS in Sept. 1396. He is said to have made the boast that his head would rest on the altar of St. Peter's in Rome. In 1402 he was defeated and made prisoner by TAMERLANE just as he was preparing to attack Constantinople. Shut up in an iron cage, he was carried in the train of his conqueror and about 9 mos. later died in the TATAR camp in PISIDIA.

1402

1912 Dates J-BK

SARDIS

The city was demolished by TAMERLANE.

Ruins of the ancient city
exist, but the modern city SART, is a small village
inhabited by nomadic tribes

1402

1912 Dates J-BK
The East

BATTLE OF ANGORA

BAJAZET I was defeated and captured by TIMUR LENIK (TAMERLANE)
(1336-1405)

1402

Eastern Empire
BAJAZET is defeated and made prisoner by TIMUR at the battle of Angora.